章节摘录

版权页： 插图： A few days later, a letter came from Edward's parents. They said that their ship had sailed through storms and rough seas. It had been a long trip, but in the end everyone had arrived safely. They had found some good land where they had built a home for themselves. They had been able to grow corn and other crops. Samuel's father was delighted to hear this news. He looked at his family. Then he asked them if they would like to go to the new land. Samuel stared at his parents in amazement. They were both smiling. His sisters began to dance around the room. rough 汹涌的 in the end 最终 grow 种植 corn 谷物, 玉米 crop 农作物 be delighted to do sth. 高兴地做某事 stare at 凝视 in amazement 惊讶地 The time passed quickly as they packed their belongings. Before long, they were all on the ship together. When Samuel went below deck, he could hear water lapping against the sides of the ship. Soon he would be sailing away on the high tide. The great adventure was about to begin! At first, the weather was fine and the sea was calm. Samuel enjoyed going up on deck with his father. Sometimes he watched the sailors working. Sometimes he played with the other children. The trip was exciting! belongings 所有的物品 deck 甲板 lap 拍打 adventure 冒险 calm 平静的 exciting 令人激动的
