前言

It is a great honor for me to write a preface for the new , PFS (China Society for People's Friendship Studies) 50-book series under the general title of Light on China. All these books were written in English by journalistic and other eyewitnesses of the events descry bed. I have read many of them over the seven decades since my student days at Yenching University. With some of the out standing authors in this series I have ties of personal friendship , mutual regard , and warm memories dating from before the Chinese people's Liberation in 1949. Looking back and forward , I am convinced that China is pursuing the right course in building a strong and prosperous country in a rapidly changing world with its complex and sometimes volatile developments.

内容概要

《中国建设民主:中国工合史》内容简介：The China Society for People's Friendship Studies (PFS) in cooperation with the Foreign Languages Press (FLP) in Beijing has arranged for re-publication , in the series entitled Light on China , of some fifty books written in English between the 1860s and the founding years of the People's Republic , by journalistic and other sympathetic eyewitnesses of the revolutionary events described. Most of these books have long been out of print , but are now being brought back to life for the benefit of readers in China and abroad.

章节摘录

插图：For the Industrial plants , however , the Government took little action until almost a year ago when it fostered the Industrial Cooperatives. It immediately solved four outstanding problems precipitated by Japan's wanton destruction of China's industrial centers. First. it provided a way for China to mobilize its economic and industrial resources so as to increase her power of resistance. Secondly , it created a new basis for China's economic structure by giving rise to domestic industries. Thirdly , it provided work for the refugees who had been thrown out of employment in consequence of the industrial plants having fallen into the hands of the enemy. Fourthly , it helped to salvage and rescue from the threatened areas the machinery and transplant them to the interior where the Work could be revived.
