内容概要

Guizhou is one of the multiethnic provinces in China. The past several thousand years have seen various ethnic groups migrate there from different parts of the country, leaving deep influences on the local customs and culture. This book, fully illustrated, vividly displays the course of migration and the harmonious coexistence of the various ethnic groups in Guizhou. It also touches upon the topic of how to protect the traditional ethnic cultures as well as the eco-environment in the process of modernization.
