<<中医防治流行性感冒保健新法>>

内容概要

The New TCM Anti-Flu Therapy is an economic , non-drug approach to flu prevention and treatment . Conforming to life science principles , it could be especially valuable in the context of a serious global flu epidemic and the rapid mutation of flu viruses . The outcome of 30 years of clinical observation and practice , and in line with the holistic New Century Medical Model , this easy , effective and scientific method stresses the patient ' S active involvement , activating the body ' S innate flu defenses through clearly described and illustrated self-massage and other techniques . It is readily adaptable to the patient ' S individual circumstances .
