章节摘录

(d) pay the amount due on settlement day; (e) arrange for the transfer of ownership to be entered in the share register of the company concerned, and for them to issue a new share certificate. (2) Jobbers. It is jobbers who make the market in shares by their willingness either to buy or to sell at any time. Jobbers take up positions on the floor of the Exchange in informal groups specializing in certain kinds of shares, and when approached by a broker each member of the group quotes a double price, one for buying and one for selling, before being told which he may be called upon to do. He naturally hopes to make a profit out of the difference between these prices, called the “ jobbers turn ” , but there is no guarantee that he will do so. A jobber who misjudges the trend of the market and puts his prices too high will only make bargains with brokers wishing to sell, whereas one who pitches his prices too low will only attract buying brokers; as he wants to finish the account period with buying and selling contracts in balance, he may well have to adjust his prices so that in the end he is forced to sell shares for less than he agreed to pay for them, or buy in shares for more than he contracted to sell.

There are now approximately 3 500 members of the Stock Exchange, of whom about 500 are jobbers organized into no more than about 30 firms. The marked contraction in the number of jobbing firms in recent years reflects the growing difficulty of raising sufficient capital to finance their operations. For the same reason, the Stock Exchange Council is now prepared to abandon its traditional rule that no firm should seek the protection of limited liability for its members. [4] Stock exchange council Finally , one of the most useful functions performed by the Stock Exchange is the general supervision which the Council exercises over the business ethics of quoted companies . In many ways the council ' S code of conduct is more exacting than company law itself.

and any breach of its rules would be penalized by the withdrawal of quotation rights . [5] 注 释 [1] the Stock Exchange “ g——证券交易所。

它只限于会员参与证券买卖。

会员可分为经纪人和自营商两种。

前者是代客买卖·收取佣金,后者是自行买卖·自负盈亏。

[2]The existence.....provision of capital·为企业资产提供资金的市场的存在是工商业绝大部分依靠私人来源取得资金的经济的一个基本特征。

[3].....but.....order, 但必须按买卖委托单上写明的要求行事。

[4]For the same.....its members·基于同样原因(指股票自营商无充分资金保证其业务的进行), 证券交易委员会现在正准备取消证券公司无须为其会员提供一定资产保证的规定。
