章节摘录

释放你的创造力 我一直是一个乐观主义者，而且我深信人类的创造能力和聪明才智可以使这个世界变得更加美好。

自从记事起，我就喜欢学习新东西，喜欢解决难题。

所以，上七年级时，当我第一次坐在一台计算机前，我就对它完全着迷了。

那是一台会发出沉闷声音的老式电传打字机，与我们今天拥有的计算机相比，它几乎毫无用处。

但是它改变了我的生命。

我和朋友保罗·艾伦在30年前开始创办微软之时，我们有一个设想，那就是“在每个家庭，每张办公桌上都有一台计算机”。

这在当时大多数计算机的体积还和冰箱一样庞大的时代，或许是有点过于乐观了。

然而我们相信个人计算机将会改变整个世界。

如今它们做到了。

In the commencement of life, we set no bounds to our inclinations, nor to the unrestricted opportunities of gratifying them, We have as yet found no obstacle, no disposition to flag ; and it seems that we can go on so forever. We look round in a new world, full of life, and motion, and ceaseless progress ; and feel in ourselves all the vigor and spirit to keep pace with it, and do not foresee from any present symptoms how we shall be left behind in the natural course of things, decline into old age. and drop into the grave. It is the simplicity, and as it were abstractedness of our feelings in youth, that identifies us with nature, and deludes us into a belief of being immortal like it. Our short-lived connection with existence we fondly flatter ourselves, is an indissoluble and lasting union a honeymoon that knows neither coldness, jar. nor separation. As infants smile and sleep, we are rocked in the cradle of our wayward fancies, and lulled into security by the roar of the universe around us we quaff the cup of life with eager haste without draining it, instead of which it only overflows the more-objects press around us. filling the mind with their magnitude and with the strong of desires that wait upon them, so that we have no room for the thoughts of death.
