章节摘录

Dimitri was amazed to find that the lamb had become white. He took a close look at it and recognized it as his own. This discovery at once caused an angry scene between Dimitri and Aleko. Dimitri repeated his accusation that Aleko had stolen his lamb, but Aleko still rejected any theft. During the violent argument, Dimitri said the rain had proved that the lamb had been dyed black and he recognized it at once as the one he had given to his wife. When Aleko finally denied he had stolen the lamb, Dimitri called the police. Aleko was arrested and Dimitri took his lamb home. The story led to a lot of excitement in the village. The villagers did not often have the chance to talk about such an important event and they were greatly amused by what had happened. Some thought Aleko had been very bright. Others thought he had been extremely dull. Others said God had sent the rain to punish Aleko for his crime and to confirm he was a thief. They discussed the event at great length for a long time, as there was not much else to talk about in a village where nothing much ever took place.
