章节摘录

Months before enough plutonium was available , a special group was assigned the task of preparing the first atomic test. From a military point of view , the explosion meant the dress rehearsal for the real dropping of an atomic bomb on the enemy from the air. Several sites had been considered and inspected and finally the desert area called Jornada del Muerto (Journey of Death) , part of the Alamogordo bombing range in southern New Mexico , was selected in the summer of 1944 with General Groves' approval. It was given the code name Trinity.

By October 1944 the plans for Trinity Camp were drawn up and two months later construction was already completed. Late at night on July 14 , 1945 , the work of assembly was practically finished , and "Fat Man" was left on the tower , under armed guard. General Groves arrived at Trinity Camp Sunday afternoon , July 15 , 1945. The explosion was set for go at 5 : 30 a.m.
