章节摘录

版权页：插图： Rat and Mole sat in the sun on the riverbank one morning. "Rat, I would like to meet Toad. Can we visit him?" asked Mole. "What a good idea! Toad always welcomes visitors!" exclaimed Rat. So Rat and Mole rowed over to Toad Hall. It was a grand house with a beautiful garden. They found him in the garden. "Oh, Rat! I wanted to see you!" Toad jumped up. "Toad, this is my friend, Mole," said Rat. "Hello. I have something exciting to show you!" cried Toad. He took Rat and Mole to the yard. There was a gypsy caravan in the yard. "I will travel the whole world," said Toad. Mole was very interested. He looked at the kitchen, the beds, the books, the games and the food in the caravan. "Everything is here for us. Let's go!" said Toad. The three friends left Toad Hall that afternoon. "What a beautiful day! This is better than the river!" exclaimed Toad. Mole was so excited, but Rat was already missing the river. The next morning Toad, Rat and Mole heard a strange noise behind them. They looked back and saw a lot of dust in the road. The strange noise came again, "Poop! Poop!" Then the thing went past them. The horse was very scared. It ran into the ditch and the caravan turned over. The windows and everything inside were broken. Rat jumped up and down angrily in the road. But Toad said dreamily, "I never knew! That was a motorcar! Now that's the thing for me!" "We'll just have to walk then. Come on," Rat sighed. They went back to their home. The next day, Toad bought a very large and expensive car!
