章节摘录

Then, Joe and Huck had another swim, but Tom didn't be-cause he was afraid that he would die without his string of rattle-snake. It was something to protect him, but he kicked it away just now. While two other pirates were having a rest, Tom began to write BECKY on the sand once and again with his big toe and he cleaned it at once because he was afraid that the two boys would laugh at him. Although he was angry with himself, he still wrote the word on the sand again and again. Obviously, Tom began to miss his girlfriend. Later, he joined the playing with his comrades again, just to forget Becky.
