章节摘录

书摘 Live History The characteristics of a city's history and culture are the lifeline if a city is to exist and develop . The ancient Pingyao city is just a city with her unique style . which is a most perfectly preserved County by now in China and an outstanding City model of Han Nationality style during Ming and Qing Dynasties. The unique natural environment makes unique history and culture . Pingyao , with a long history of civilization, lies in the middle drainage area of the Yellow River , the birthplace of Chinese civilization . It is said that it used to be the feud of Yao, a legendary sage king . in ancient China , so it is also called "Gutao" in history books In Spring and Autumn Time . it belonged to Kingdom Jin. In Warring States Period , it was governed by Kingdom Zhao and in Qin and Han Dynasty it used to be named Pingtao , Zhongdu and Jingling . In Beiwei Period , its name was changed into Pingyao , which has been used till now for over 1500 years . (1) The long history has left many places of interest and a great number of ancient architectures and historical relics which are rarely found in other parts of China . Over 300 ground and underground historical relics have been found and the announced list of historical relics consists of 99 items, including 5 state-class ones , 4 province-class ones and county-class ones . Thus they make a group of historical relics with the ancient city as their main body , which attracts a great many tourists from home and abroad . The ancient city wall winds its way 6 kilometers , with its imposing and tragic momentum , firm barbican entrance to the city and the Superstructure piercing into the sky . Under the old and endless sky , they make magnificent pictures whether dawn or sunset . The city wall is the most perfectly preserved one in China ; Shuanglin Temple is the most attractive and infectious art museum in China. The over 2000 painted sculptures attract the tourists' attention so much that they always forget to leave . The solidified images of hundreds of years old interpret the essence of truth , kindness and beauty with their gesture language. So it deserves the titles of "Treasures House of the Orient"
