章节摘录

1、 My Fairy From Heaven By Junny People say that as winter begins it either brings happiness or leaves us with some sorrowful memories. It was the beginning of the winter of 2003. I met someone who changed my world. It was a cold night in mid-October. She entered my office for an interview to be an English teacher at my school. As she stepped in, a voice from my heart forced my lips to say the word "Pari". "Pari", in my country, is a fairy from heaven. I interviewed her and she passed with an "A" grade. When we finished the interview, it was almost 9 p.m. and it was getting late for both of us. I packed my things, put on my coat and stepped towards the elevator. Then I found this girl was also waiting for the elevator. She talked to me. I just looked into her eyes, totally speechless. As we left the building, a cold breeze blew up my coat in the air. She moved nearer and started fastening my coat buttons. I tried to speak but she stopped me and said, "Junny, fasten your buttons or you will catch a cold." Then I asked her where she was heading. She pointed in the direction I was going. I accompanied her to the gate of her university. When I returned to my apartment, I suddenly discovered a whole new feeling in my heart that had never existed before. It was love at first sight. I used to hear that love at first sight did not exist.
