章节摘录

插图：At the inspiring news, Zhang Boling, a soccer fan and an advocate of invig-orating the nation through sports, was so excited that he even applauded and jumped high as if he were a young man once again. He threw a sumptuous banquet to celebrate the victory in honor of the players. When he met them, he shook hands with each player and murmured words of praise like "thanks", "heroes", and "winning honor". He also expressed his gratitude because they won great honor for the whole country. He said that the team's achievement was the rebuttal to Western sneering at Chinese and they also showed that the Chinese people are a people of unity and cooperation. He praised the team for its strong will and perseverance to fight to the end. After the banquet he invited all the players to the Dingzhang Photo Studio to have this happy moment recorded. In April of 1936, the defending champion Zhonghua competed again in the "Ailuo Ding" Cup International Soccer Matches. Zhonghua won several matches in a row and waltzed into the final. The rival was England again. When the match began, the English team was quite rude and fouled many times. But the referee didn't prevent them. What was worse, he was partial to England on purpose. Being faced with the biased referee, the Zhonghua team took the interests of the whole into account and endured the unjust treatment till the end of the first half. But the referee became reckless in passing obviously false judgments. Captain Sun Sijing argued against the referee and was sent off the field by getting the red card. The unfair penalty incited strong resentment among players. After careful consideration, all players decided to walk out and announced their default.
