内容概要

《无界(英文版)》主要内容简介：“All Phenomena” have their own realms, while “Reality” is of non-self. “All Phenomena” here refer to phenomenon and being; and “Reality” indicates essence and truth. The former are concrete while the latter is abstract. And as for hotel. Its buildings are concrete while the culture and conception behind it are invisible and intangible. They symbiotically interact with each other; “All Phenomena” and “Reality” are the combination of being and truth; all are off from while of emptiness. And as for hotel. Hotel's construction and architecture are off from because of geographical restriction while its design conception given by designer knows no bounds and limitations. Being bounded yet unbounded. “Reality” and “All Phenomena” also mean the being and phenomenon carried by the essence, which are abstractly unbounded while their presenting things are concretely bounded. And as for hotel. The culture and conception behind the hotel are not visible and intangible but the visual image carried by the construction and architecture is.
